I am writing to whole heartedly object to moving our taxes to RITA. Perhaps the financial director/mayor thinks that will be easier but for the residents who have dealt with RITA before it is not a positive move. We are the customers not the city. Will our tax load be lessened since you are removing a key office in the city? What is the benefit to the citizens? What is the rational behind this decision? Having to deal with another agency and its bureaucracy and not the people in our current office who actually assist will be detrimental. I feel like it's a sneaky move and that it wasn't really publicized to the community at large.

Thank you
