I took my granddaughter to play at Boettler park last week and was sad to see someone had taken off the sticks that you use on the xylophone on the lower playground (see attached picture). I hope they are going to be replaced.

Also, every time we go, she likes to go up the stairs & play in the clubhouse but I am always afraid she will fall through the large openings where kids can climb in who climb up the rock wall. It is a MIRACLE that none of the smaller children have fallen out of these openings. There must be a way to make this safer. I always go up with my granddaughter, but I've noticed some parents let their small children go up there alone!
